Decoyed to a Lonely Spot by a Forged Letter.

Mamie Hannan and Her Mother Terrorized by Threatening Letters.

according to Mrs. Hannan, the mother of drteen-year-old Mamie Hannan, who accuses x-Roundsman Daily, of the Delancer street station, with having assaulted her in a saloon in March last, she and her daughter are being subjected to merciless persecution at the ands of some persons, whom she believes to to be acting in the interest of Daily.

Since the charges were preferred against Daily he has been suspended from the police orce, and is now under ball awaiting trial in Both Mrs. Hannan and her daughter have received many letters threatening them with dire consequences if the case against the extendsman is prosecuted, and they have received wists from strange men and have been glowed in the street and insulted repeatedly by men whom they had never seen before.

On one occasion, Mrs. Hannan says, an attempt was made to abduct Mamie. She recived setter signed "John Hickey," who is a trother-in-law of lizzle Lawior, the young woman who corroborated the girls story of the assuult, asking her to meet him at scale of clock on the evening of June 2 at stanton and columntal streets, when she would hear something to her ad-annual columntal streets, when she would hear something to her domained by him to the place. The cirl corroborates these statements of her mother. She seemed to be very nervous and excited, and her face was worn and haggard. She looked as though she had suffered a great deal, and is much older in appearance than when she was seen in court last May and told her store to Justice Taintor. The family live respectably in the tenement-bouse at 318 Monroe street. Mrs. Hannan goes out working and scrubbing to earn a livelihood for her family, and she has a son mineteen years old who contributes to their support. There are two other children who are younger than Mamie.

The case against Daily is in the hands of Assatant District-Atterney Weeks, who is now out of town on his vacation. It will be the understand the politican, whose body was norther to trial, it is said, some time next month.
